Vol. 3 - Issue 5

Hello.....Just 11 more months until Christmas and yes I have last Christmas paid for so bring it on.....Ken Gregory has completed the round-robin portion of the Provincial Wheelchair playdowns and finished with a great 4 and 1 record. There is a three way tie for first spot and not sure how it goes from here, but, Ken and his team of Colindra Joseph, Jon Thurston and Chrissy Molnar will be ready for the playoffs and hopefully go on to the Canadians. Good curling Team Gregory you have done well. Follow the team on the OCA site, bottom right corner on home page.....Mondays Jerk The Joker is over $ 2000,00, will this be the week.....The second half of the Beginners League will start next Sunday, get your name in to Bob Kelsey if you are a relatively new curler and want to play. A sponsor has been picked up for the second half as Coffee Culture has agreed to continue with the same offer as M & M did in the first half.....Remember our Sponsors and Members who have a business, all the names can be found on the respective pages on the website.....Marie Pearson-Cook is the featured sponsor this issue and can meet your real estate needs.....If you are looking for practice time, dates and times can be found on the website calendar, make sure you confirm you wishes with Marie Pearson-Cook, just to make sure the ice is prepared for you and also that there is not a double booking.....Volunteer Instructors are still needed for two rentals we have, again check the home page of website for more information.....Two upcoming bonspiels are in need of curlers, both the SCI Ontario Fundraiser and Mixed Doubles Open are short of teams and could use your help. It takes a lot of work to organize one of these events so let's get behind those doing the work. See the bonspiel page on the website for more information.....Next issue will present an overview of the Mixed Doubles just to give you an idea of what this Olympic type event is all about, not enough room this time.....Sometimes I get the idea that curling is its own worst enemy, they come up with lots of TV exposure but you have to spend all kinds of time finding out when it is on the Tube. There should be a central spot which provides all this information, there are too many different events and providers but each of these providers does not want to promote each other. If you know of a website that includes all please pass it along. With that said the Grand Slam from Port Hawksbury is on Sportsnet this week.....Once again Directors are needed and apparently we will need a new secretary next year, if you have a desire contact Russ Gale.....Until next time, thanks to all those who do offer lots of time to make sure the clubs needs are met, remember we are a Volunteer Club, as you can see by all the little snippets now adorning the windows upstairs.
